Creating a Respectful Workplace

A Workshop for Supervisor Level Employees

Register here: Creating A Respectful Workplace \(A No-Bully Campus\)

Oct 9th

1:00 – 3:00

COB2- 392

Bullying can take many forms, some are more direct, while others are less obvious, but all are equally destructive to working relationships. Participants will learn how to recognize bullying behavior; how to distinguish bullying from incivility; what climates encourage bullying; the impact of workplace bullying; skills for responding to abrasive behaviors in the workplace, options for how bystanders can effectively respond; and constructive approaches to dealing with workplace bullies. Throughout the course, participants will have the opportunity to discuss hypothetical workplace case studies and apply various proactive and response strategies to these cases. This workshop is presented by Human Resources/ Labor Relations, Office of the Ombuds and Campus Climate.
